Contents

	page
Themes in Drama volumes and conferences	vii
List of contributors	ix
List of illustrations	xi
Editor's preface	xii
The value of a kindly chorus: female choruses in Attic tragedy by VICTOR CASTELLANI	1
The actor as actress in Euripides' Alcestis by KAREN BASSI	19
Marriage and prostitution in classical New Comedy by DAVID WILES	31
Hroswitha and the feminization of drama by PETER R. SCHROEDER	49
Roaring girls and silent women: the politics of androgyny on the Jacobean stage by LORRAINE HELMS	59
Molière's women – a matter of focus by MAYA SLATER	75
The 'playgirl' of the western world: feminism, comedy and Synge's Pegeen Mike by GAIL FINNEY	87
A bettter Eve: women and robots in Čapek's R.U.R. and Pavlovsky's El Robot by SHARON D. KING	99

The matter with manners: the New Woman and the problem play
by CATHERINE WILEY 109

White Marriage and the transcendence of gender
by ALLEN KUHARSKI 129

'The woman who knows Latin . . .': the portrayal of women in Chilean theatre
by CATHERINE M. BOYLE 139

Lilian Baylis: paradoxes and contradictions
by VERA GOTTLIEB and ROBERT GORDON 155

Feminine writing and its theatrical 'other'
by CYNTHIA RUNNING-JOHNSON 177

Caste iron bars: Marsha Norman's Getting Out as political theatre
by RICHARD G. SCHARINE 185

Feminists, lesbians, and other women in theatre: thoughts on the politics of performance by JILL DOLAN 199

The rhetorical and political foundations of women's collaborative theatre
by JUDITH ZIVANOVIC 209

The next stage: devaluation, revaluation, and after
by DIANE SPEAKMAN 221

'So much more than just myself': women theatre artists in the South
by CINDY LUTENBACHER 253

Women in the London theatre: a contemporary account
by SUE JAMESON 265

Index 293